Animal Welfare	What about the animals? Won't they be disturbed by the lights and visitor noise?	ZSL is an international conservation charity dedicated to creating a world where wildlife thrives and the welfare of the animals in our care is paramount. The event is conscious of running a trail in this environment and event producers have worked closely with ZSL London Zoo to ensure that the residents of the Zoo are our first priority. The trail route and design has been carefully planned in consultation with ZSL's zoological experts and best practice, including a strict limit on visitor numbers each evening and is designed to minimise any impact on the animals. (See also 'Noise pollution' and 'Light pollution' notes below). We ask all our visitors to continue this hard work by following signage and staff requests to keep noise to a minimum in specially marked 'hush zones' (lit red). Furthermore, please ensure that torches on phones and camera flashes are not used into exhibits where we are keeping animals in the dark to allow them to rest.

Customers who purchased tickets at the venue will be contacted by the venue directly with details of how to reschedule.  We advise you to check our website, https://www.zsl.org/zsl-london-zoo/whats-on/christmas-at-zsl-london-zoo for the latest updates.
Trail Cancellation / route changes		For various reasons, including animal welfare, we reserve the right to amend or close the route without prior notice.
Sustainability	Light Pollution	The trail will be architecturally lit by experienced lighting designers who have developed sensitive ways of working through heritage and landscape settings over the last 7 years.  Responding to the natural darkness of sites is key to the success of these events. The best visual work is sensitive to light "competition" and the brightness of one light source relative to another. We therefore take advantage of the environmental darkness to reduce

		the overall brightness of our lighting interventions and allow ample space within our audience experiences for people's eyes to attune to the darkness, then to allow them to appreciate the sights and sounds of the natural environment as a contrast to and context, for our artistic efforts. We try to avoid continuous lighting of trails and paths and will only use audience area lighting where it is absolutely necessary for reasons of public safety.
	Noise Pollution	Sound installations are created to provide atmosphere and a sense of feeling for an installation. All sounds are targeted and specific to a part of the route and are therefore contained within defined spaces, therefore there is no noise pollution over and above the natural sound level created by the presence of audiences on the trail.
	Fuel Usage	Fuel for power generation will be kept to a minimum by efficient use of power loadings and low wattage lighting units where appropriate.
	Is it not quite wasteful having all these lights on at night? Is this illuminated trail sustainable?	Consideration for the event's sustainability has been built into the planning process for the delivery of this event, the end result of which we hope will be to inspire and engage new and existing visitors. Our trail designers, Culture Creative, have been appointed on the strength of their experience of working in environmentally sensitive ways in heritage and landscape settings. Specific attention is given to power and where possible we are using mains power. Where generators are needed, these are carefully specified and operated to ensure the most efficient fuel usage. Low wattage lighting units will be used where appropriate on the trail. Culture Creative's design ethos is to take advantage of the environmental darkness to reduce the overall brightness of their lighting interventions, whilst maximising the effects of their artistic efforts. Continuous lighting of trails and paths will be avoided and we will only use audience area lighting where it is absolutely necessary for reasons of public safety. Christmas at London Zoo is a trail through an historic site. Although the entire route is on hard-standing pathway, by its very nature it will on occasion traverse low gradient slopes. Please be assured every effort is made to make the trail fully accessible. Where necessary, there will be additional steward support available for assistance.
Who is it organised by?		ZSL has partnered with entertainment promoter Raymond Gubbay Ltd who are well established for producing concerts and live events throughout the UK. They have also co-produced the highly successful Christmas at Kew, Christmas at Blenheim Palace, Christmas at the Botanical Gardens and Christmas at the Botanics illuminated light trails. Christmas at London Zoo has been developed in collaboration with Culture Creative, producers of trails that celebrate the heritage and landscapes of stunning locations across the UK. They have previously worked

		with English Heritage, the National Trust, Forestry Commission, and the National Trust for Scotland. For more information on ZSL London Zoo please click here.
